Higher Cotton Support Price Is Assured

WASHINGTON (AP)—A higher support price for cotton this year probably will be announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in a day or so, Rep. C. C. Gathings, D-Ark., said today.

Gathings is chairman of the Cotton Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee.

The support price last year was 75 per cent of parity.

Gathings said he looked for the new support price to be in the low 80's. Because of a change in cotton regulations this year, Gathings said that the support price would have to be about 81 per cent in order to bring the farmers the same money they received last year.

He said he has hopes Freeman will announce a support price higher than 81 per cent.

The New York Times said in a dispatch from Washington today that a support price of about 81 per cent of parity was expected by congressional sources. This was calculated as an increase of about 2 cents a pound above last year's average market price of 30 cents a pound.

The Times dispatch said an increase support price would increase costs of cotton used by the domestic textile industry and could lead, in turn, to increased imports of low-cost textiles.

Russia's Venus-Bound Space Station Might Penetrate the Clouds Around the Planet

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's Venus-bound space station loomed ahead at 2.5 miles per second today and Soviet scientists reported its equipment was relaying back information as planned.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said two playback sessions of data from the station has been triggered by radio command from about space conditions was received.

The 1,418-pound "automatic interplanetary station" was rocketed from an orbiting Sputnik Sunday, the Soviets said. It is designed to penetrate the clouds perpetually blanketing Venus and reveal some of her secrets. Soviet scientists refused to comment, however, on speculation that the space ship carried cameras aboard.

Tass said the station was 303,600 miles from earth at noon Monday soaring between the constellations of Cetus (the Whale) and Pisces (the Fish) in the center of the triangle formed by the constellations of Beta Aires, Alpha Pegasus and Beta Cetus.

"After a few days," Tass said, "the automatic interplanetary station will be out of the so-called sphere of terrestrial gravitation."

All equipment aboard was functioning as intended, Tass said. During the first playback, the temperature aboard was 66 degrees Fahrenheit. The account said a temperature control system was designed to assure proper conditions for operation of equipment on the station.

The equipment is designed to study cosmic radiation, magnetic fields, interplanetary matter and registering of collisions with micrometeorites. Tass continued.

Bill Would Add to State Road System

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A five-man legislative interim committee to study the possibility of transferring all federal aid secondary roads into the state highway system would be created under a bill introduced in the Arkansas House today by Montgomery County Rep. Ode Maddox.

The committee — three members of the House and two from the Senate — would be delegated to determine how many miles of federal aid secondary roads now are in the various county highway systems and how much state turnback money the counties should yield if the transfer is made.

The bill was introduced on a day during which the House is scheduled to vote on another bill to give the counties an additional $1.5 million in state funds for expenditure on secondary roads.

The House today adopted a resolution to set up a similar five-man committee to make a study of state parks and to develop a plan for improving them.

Both committees would report back to the 1963 legislature.

The House also passed a resolution urging the Publicity and Parks Commission to study the possibility of creating a state park on the Greers Ferry Reservoir in Cleburne County. The federal government will give the state 1,000 acres of land adjacent to the dam site for development as a park. The dam is now under construction on the Little Red River near Heber Springs.

Clark County Rep. J. Hugh Lookado introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the prohibition against enactment by the General Assembly of local legislation.

Cites Need to Do Something About Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The need to do something about mounting unemployment is more urgent than at any time since the great depression of the 1930s, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., said after a conference with President Kennedy today.

Rayburn added that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg reported at the conference that he has found the situation worse than he had expected.

Goldberg reported to Kennedy, other members of the Cabinet and Democratic congressional leaders at an hour-long White House session which concentrated on the problem of joblessness and economic recovery.

As Goldberg did Monday night after a meeting with Kennedy, Rayburn said the President will have something to say about the unemployment situation at his news conference Wednesday night. The conference will be broadcast live on nationwide television and radio.

Newsman asked Rayburn whether he got the impression today that the administration regards the unemployment problem as more urgent than had been anticipated.

Rayburn replied he didn't want to speak for the administration, but that in his opinion the problem reflects "the most urgency since the great depression" of 30 years ago.

The White House session was held as Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana pressed for fast action on the economic program Kennedy said is aimed at "putting millions of unemployed back to work."

Mansfield said he has asked the chairman of the Senate Labor and Finance committees to get hearings going quickly on minimum wage and unemployment compensation bills.

Congress is on dead center with many Republicans away making Lincoln Day speeches. But Mansfield said he hopes the Banking Committee can send the Senate next week a bill to aid chronically distressed areas.

Kennedy told the National Industrial Conference Board Monday these three are among the measures in an economic program geared to recovery as a first step toward bolstering the country's economic growth.

Announcing that he will propose a new tax incentive plan to promote an expansion of plant and equipment investment, Kennedy said this will be part of his administration's cooperation with business.

But he said recovery is an essential first step.

"Only by putting millions of unemployed back to work can we expand purchasing power and markets," he said. "Only by higher income and profits can we provide the incentive and the means for increased investment. And only when we are using our plant at or near capacity can we expect any solid expansion."

Kennedy did not give any details of his tax incentive proposal. But members of Congress who have discussed it with him said it is their understanding that fast tax write-offs would be suggested for heavy equipment which would provide more business for steel mills and the machine tool industry.

Convicted Bomber Seeking a Parole

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. D. Sims 36, who is serving a 5 year prison term for his part in the 1959 Labor Day Little Rock integration-linked bombings, has applied for a parole, the state Parole and Pardon office said.

Sims pleaded guilty to a charge of dynamiting the Little Rock School Board building. He was fined $500 and sentenced to prison.

His parole eligibility date is June 22.

Gov. May Have Solved Road Money Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus may have solved a controversy over distribution of state road funds Monday in a series of meetings with the state Highway Commission and representatives of the Arkansas County Judges Association and the Municipal League.

Faubus wouldn't say what happened at the meeting, but some of those who attended told newsman that a compromise plan was discussed.

They said under the plan, the counties would divide $400,000 in the next two years in state general fund turnback and cities would get $750,000 a year more in highway turnback and an extra $400,000 in state general funds turnback.

Counties also would be promised $100,000 worth of state work on state secondary roads in each county in the next two years, they said.

The spokesman asked that their names not be used. Faubus met separately with the three groups.

The Arkansas House and Senate met for only a few minutes Monday, then adjourned so members could pay last respects to Conway County Rep. Clay Brazil.

Brazil died Saturday night in Morrilton after a heart attack. Funeral services and burial were Monday, with most House members and many senators attending.

Brazil probably would have been a floor leader for a bill to give counties an additional $1.5 million a year in highway funds. The bill was called Friday but the House adjourned rather than act on it Monday, because of the abbreviated session, it was put off until today.

County judges are seeking more county road funds and the Municipal League wants more money for city streets. But since they are asking for state Highway Department funds, they have run into opposition from the Highway Commission.

Faubus called for a 5-man committee to study the matter and come up with some recommendations for the 1963 legislature. The judges, league and Highway Department, each would have one man on the committee, and there would be two members-at-large.

Bills are pending in the House to give each county $20,000 for matching federal funds in the construction of county roads and to change the turnback formula to give cities an estimated $1.8 million in Highway Department funds.

Pulaski Rep. Glenn Wallther filed a bill Monday to give prosecuting attorneys and chancery judges jurisdiction over obscene matter, making censor boards unnecessary.

Chancery judges could, on request of the prosecutor, bar by injunction the distribution of matter judged obscene. The bill would make traffic in obscene matter a felony.

Faubus said Monday he is circulating a letter to 15,000 teachers.

Lumumba Case May Bring a Blood Bath

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet government today officially withdrew its recognition of Patrice Lumumba, the deposed Congo Premier.

A note distributed by Tass also demanded the arrest and trial of President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province for Lumumba's death.

The Russians demanded the United Nations censure Belgium in the slaying of Patrice Lumumba, the deposed Congo Premier.

A note distributed by Tass also demanded the arrest and trial of President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province for Lumumba's death.

By PATRICK MASSEY
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Seething with anger, supporters of Patrice Lumumba predicted today a new blood bath in the Congo in revenge for the slaying of the deposed premier.

United Nations troops were alerted amid growing fears the Lumumbists would wreak their vengeance on Belgians and Congolese political hostages in Oriental and Kivu provinces, where Lumumba's followers are firmly in control.

The assassination of Lumumba left the leadership of the Congo's leftist forces in the hands of Communist-trained Antoine Gizenga, 41, who has set up a rump regime in Stanleyville, capital of Oriental Province 775 miles northeast of Leopoldville.

Backed by the Soviet Union and a strong segment of the Asian-African bloc, Gizenga has challenged the central government of President Joseph Kasavubu. His forces also have clashed with troops of secessionist Katanga Province.

Troops of the various Congo factions were reported on the move as Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold warned the U.N. Security Council that civil war was developing in the troubled nation.

Gizenga's spokesman at the United Nations, Thomas Kanza, reportedly told 21 friendly delegations that a three-pronged attack was being planned on Stanleyville from Leopoldville, Kasai and Katanga provinces.

Katanga troops were reported advancing north in the province against pro-Lumumba Baluba tribesmen in an offensive launched Saturday. A communique said Baluba rebels had been driven from Bukama, a big town in central Katanga, and that 300 Balubas had been taken prisoner in Luena, to the south.

In the northwest, forces of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the Leopoldville government's army chief, were converging on Oriental Province, apparently for a showdown with Gizenga.

The U.N. Congo force, under a mandate only to maintain order in the Congo, has tried to keep aloof from the political and tribal rivalries that have brought chaos to the 8-month-old republic.

But Hammarskjold ordered his aides in the Congo to continue a "full and impartial investigation" of the killing of Lumumba and two political associates in Katanga Province, reportedly by villagers after their escape from a farm house prison.

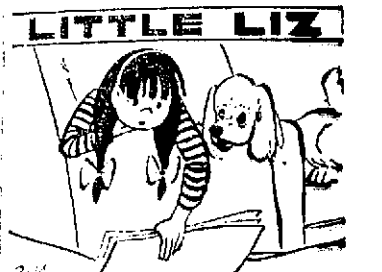

The Katanga government challenged the right of the United Nations to probe the affair, an defiance replied "prove it to charges the trio were murdered by the government."

Katanga President Moise Tshombe, a bitter enemy of Lumumba who was hanged the ex-premier as a prisoner Jan. 17 by Kasavubu, still refused to see the Ethiopian general assigned by the United Nations to investigate the massacre.

Negro Held in Car Burglaries

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin said today that he and Chief of Police Jack Brown had returned Clive Dillard Jr. to Hope and that the Negro had admitted to stealing articles from seven automobiles and to forgery and uttering.

The Sheriff also said that Leroy Hughes, Negro, is being held in Memphis, Texas for the theft of a truck in this county. He will be returned here for prosecution.

Any good citizen would be glad to pay his taxes with a smile—but the government prefers cash.

Must Prepare Students for the Future

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Unless the students of today learn to live in the world of tomorrow they face annihilation in a global holocaust.

High school principals from across the nation accepted this grim premise today in considering sweeping proposals for greatly strengthened programs in the social studies.

A position paper submitted by a special committee of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, convening here, put it bluntly.

"Preparing students for living in this and the 21st century demands a kind of social studies instruction which their parents and teachers never experienced," the committee said.

"The very existence of mankind today depends upon man's control of his social environment. Man must use his vast new sources of power for constructive purposes. The alternative is the creation of a global holocaust."

The term "social studies" is usually interpreted to mean such subjects as history, geography, economics, sociology, civics and the like. All deal, in general, with man's relations with his fellow-man.

The position paper has been distributed to more than 5,000 principals attending the convention. It is a tentative draft, but only minor revisions are expected before it comes up for approval by the convention delegates Wednesday. If approved, it becomes association policy.

The position paper calls for required courses in the social studies in every year of the junior and senior high school, and for every student, whether college bound or not.

For students able to handle the work, the committee recommended elective courses at every level. High school courses in this area might include courses in U.S. foreign policy, contemporary problems in economics, or history of Latin America and the Far East.

Russia's Venus

Chemical sources charged by solar batteries furnish the power to radio information back to earth.

Dr. Alexander Markov, an expert in physics and mathematics, wrote in Komsomolskaya Pravda that after the first Venus probe, other rockets would carry automatic instruments to the planet itself to send back information about its atmosphere, surface and flora and fauna if they exist.

Prof. Ari Sternfeld, Soviet space scientist, predicted the station would rendezvous with Venus at about 26 million miles out in space between May 15 and 31.

The U.S. Naval Observatory said Venus would be 42.9 million miles away on May 20.

Act 396 Ruled Unconstitutional

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Act 396 of 1955, which provides a special procedure for the taxation of stock in life insurance companies, banks and trust companies, was declared unconstitutional by the state Supreme Court Monday.

In a 6-1 opinion, the Court said the law violated a section of the constitution which says no one species of property shall be taxed higher than another species of property of equal value.

The ruling apparently will cut about $3.5 million in personal property assessments on life insurance companies and banks from the Pulaski County property tax rolls, where the test case originated.

14-Year-Old Girl Friends
Loneliness a Friend

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Here is a poem written by a 14-year-old girl which I print to encourage her and because it is St. Valentine's Day. The thinking is that of a far older person.

Loneliness, loneliness, where are you tonight —
Are you in the stars shining so bright?
When no one is around, you're always near
To comfort me and dry my tears.

Loneliness, loneliness, are you in the trees so high,
Blowing a breeze throughout the night,
To send your message both far and near,
That loneliness is nothing to fear?

Loneliness, loneliness, are you in a stream,
Running through the night so clear and clean,
To carry this message to another stream,
That loneliness is not a dream?

Loneliness, loneliness, I thank you so,
You comfort me wherever I go,
Although I can't see you with my eye,
I know you're very near my side.

Brenda Freeman
Henagar, Ala.

Brenda goes on to say that she is in the ninth grade at school and envisions loneliness as a comfort, not an enemy. "When I'm lonely, I write," she adds, "and that's good for I love to write. Am I too young?"

By the same post came the following letter from another potential writer who asks, "Do you think that, at 54, I am too old to start a writing career? Ever since I was a girl I've had a yearning to do so. Now, I have the time."

To both the young girl and the older woman I say, age is psychological, not physiological. We are never too young, nor too old to accomplish anything worth while, provided we have the inspiration, determination and equipment. The last may be acquired. The other essentials must come from within. Mozart was seven when he composed his first concerto, Joseph Conrad middle-aged when he wrote his first sea story.

The urge to write should be so much a part of your very being that nothing in this wide world can keep you from doing it. Aside from that, all I can do is advise you to study the classics, take a refresher course in spelling, grammar and rhetoric and write, write, write!

The way is long and the road rough but, for me, it is the only one.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets are following week.

About 300 employees, mostly women, will be affected.

Michigan to Probe Plant Move to Ark.

By ED MARKAITY

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Norg Division of Borg-Warner Corp. today was compared to a housewife who walks two blocks past her regular market to buy a loaf of bread because "it's two cents cheaper."

"It's only good business," said Michigan Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings. He presided at a special legislative committee hearing on reasons behind a Norg move from Muskegon Heights to Fort Smith, Ark.

"You have to treat this situation as a two-day street," Geerlings said. "If the consumer can get a cheaper product elsewhere, that's only good business. But on a state basis it hurts and we've got to lick this thing."

Civic and labor leaders, in their testimony, implied Norg isn't headed for a land of milk and honey over the long run.

Geerlings expressed hope the inquiry would smooth a path for introduction of Michigan legislation enabling tax-free municipal bond issues to help build new plants for industry.

Ray G. Everett, president of Allied Industrial Workers Local 404 at Norg, saw the company with smooth sailing for about 10 years on lower labor costs in its new location.

"A company getting into a new plant, tax-free under the Arkansas program," he said, "has new employees and can look forward to a lower wage scale and less benefits to employees for the first 10 years of operation.

"Obligation" mounts when the employer has people who have given their services over a number of years. There is the area of seniority and pensions. It's a cold-blooded economic fact. There is no thought left to moral obligation."

He said Norg came to Muskegon Heights in 1930 and by going to Arkansas severs relations with most employees. Everett reported that a union negotiation Monday with company officials resulted in a Norg statement that the company was not yet prepared to discuss severance pay, pensions or possible employee transfers.

Everett also sounded a warning. He told Geerlings that Michigan must change its attitude in order to keep present industries or bring new ones to the state.

"We have depended too much on believing that industry had to come here because this is where the skilled were," he said. "But the trend is changing... going South. The South is doing everything possible to entice skilled labor to try and overcome a shortage. If that problem is licked and Michigan does nothing, I think you'll have a wholesale movement away from the state."

W. Earl Lackey, chairman of Muskegon's Industrial Development Committee, looked for something good to come from the inquiry. He said perhaps it would uncover all the reasons for the forthcoming Norg move and bring legislative action to combat threatened loss of Michigan industry.

Removal of the plant, scheduled this summer, means the loss of 1,800 jobs and a $10 million annual payroll. The plant is in neighboring Muskegon Heights. Norg says the move will improve its business position.

City officials say that Norg Division holds $6 million of a $7.5 million Port Smith municipal bond issue for construction of a plant for Norg in the Arkansas city. They said they expected testimony in regard to the bond.

State Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, a Democrat, heads a special six-man committee asking the questions of Norg management, labor and greater Muskegon civic leaders.

"That's one of the things I want

Belgium Passes Austerity Bill

BRUSSELS (AP) — Belgium's Senate Monday night gave a final passage by a 97-63 vote to the austerity bill that sparked last month's general strike.

The measure, calling for higher taxes and curtailed social services, needs only to be signed by King Baudouin and published in the Official Journal to become law.

To get into," Geerlings said of the bond issue. "I'd like to find out about the financing of it. We should look into it and set whether it's feasible to do the same thing."

Muskegon Heights City Manager Donald Ziemke said Arkansas law permits buyers of municipal bonds to receive tax-free interest payments. Through income thus received, he said, Norg is buying the new plant under a rental-purchase agreement.

Norg is negotiating with Allied Industrial Workers Local 404 on the problems of severance pay, pensions and possible transfers.

Madcap Mirth Reigns at New Orleans

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Madcap mirth reigned supreme today as a multicolored sea of masked merrymakers turned New Orleans into the city that came forgot.

Thousands upon thousands cavorted through the streets in the final binge before the penitential Lenten season begins.

Six gigantic parades, with fan tastic floats and highstepping marching units, rolled through the streets while smiling crowds with outstretched arms clamored for throws—gaudy heads and trinkets.

Parents, children in tow, car carried strollers with fruit crates nailed to the top so the small fry could watch the floats above the heads of the grownups.

The balconies of the old buildings in the Vieux Carre — the famed French Quarter — were jammed with spectators.

People trumped on their own feet those of others and on empty beer cans, pop bottles and paper littering the streets.

Rex, monarch of merriment, tossed specially minted Carnival coins to his subjects along the route of his four-hour parade.

Tonight the Krewe of Comus, the oldest Mardi Gras organization, will wind up the parading. Rex and Comus will meet at midnight for a champagne toast at their masked balls.

New Orleans businessman Lawrence Moore Williams was this year's Rex. His lovely queen was Virginia Wayne Borah, daughter of U.S. Appeals' Court Judge Wayne G. Borah.

The Negro Carnival king—Zulu—kicked off the morning festivities as his parade wound hellskeller through the city streets. Instead of beads, the Zulus tossed coconuts to the crowds. Other Negro groups boycotted the festivities.

But most of the merrymakers seemed oblivious to rumors of possible racial unrest stemming from the pitched legal battle over the integration of two New Orleans public schools in mid-November and the white boycott of the two schools.

Sanity Test in Torso Murder Case

MENA, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Judge Bobby Steele has ordered a 30-day mental examination for Mrs. Norma MacDonald who is charged in the dismemberment slaying of her elderly former husband.

The test was ordered when the woman indicated at her arraignment here Monday she might plead insanity. She was returned here from Covington, La., following a Jan. 27 extradition hearing.

Portions of the body of 73-year-old E. B. MacDonald were discovered in a well on a farm near his Mena home last Dec. 30. Coroner Hartsell Geyer said MacDonald died Dec. 22.

Mrs. MacDonald was arrested at Covington, Jan. 3, and other parts of her former husband's body were uncovered in a shed behind a house she rented there. Officers said MacDonald's skull—containing a bullet hole—was found in the shed.

Prosecuting Atty. Ben Core said the woman has admitted disposing of the body but has denied killing MacDonald.

Core said the woman divorced MacDonald and married a second time. The second marriage also ended in divorce. Mrs. MacDonald was housekeeper for her former husband at the time of his death.

Chapter XX

Mrs. Slitt took a step forward. "I think," she said in a tone of deadly evenness, "that you'd better hand over the key to that door if you know what is good for you."

Jane took a stumbling step backward. "I want."

"All right, then." After a brief but effective pause, Mrs. Slitt went on, "Then I'll just have to call in the police won't I? One way or another I mean to know what you've been up to here, signing Miss Blanchette name to checks and locking her up in her room."

Jane's face had gone white with terror. "I didn't!"

"Then why are you so scared?" Mrs. Slitt pointed a finger. "Now, you get that door open and no more fooling around, do you hear me?" Jane, for the moment, could only stare at her and shake her head. "It'll be a lot better for you to let me have a look in there than to have to explain to the police," Mrs. Slitt nodded significantly toward the telephone stand.

Jane turned her head, and the huddle on her head glittered there in the dimness with a sudden and obscene brightness.

Mrs. Slitt held out her hand. "Now, you give me that key. I'll just look in and see for myself if she's all right. If she is, I'll go on away and leave you alone. I want even need

Hope Little Leaguers Best Camden

Two of Hope's Little League Basketball teams journeyed to Camden Saturday for a couple of games with the Camden Boys' Club group.

In the first game with a team composed of James Lawrence, Bill Coffey, Larry May, Stan Paris, Grandy Royston, Jim Robertson and Jerry Hartsfield, the locals came out on the long end of a 27 to 9 score. Larry May was the big gun for the Hope boys, with 12 points while Royston had 5 and Lawrence, Coffey and Paris had four each and Hope cleared the benches in walking away with this one.

In the second contest, although out heighted over 4 inches per man, Hope's little guards, Mike Westbrook and Gene Biddle moved the ball like a couple of pros, working in to the forwards and finished the half with a 1 point edge. In the second half the locals went into a full court press to pick up a quick 10 point lead in the third period on steals and lay ups, then settled back into a zone and ran a semi-stall to maintain that lead and win by a 33 to 25 margin.

Biddle and Westbrook had 15 and 8 points respectively. Larry Wright tossed in 6 and Tommy Cox finished with 4.

Other players were Monroe Purdue with 2, Terry Jester, Tommy Walker and David Frith.

The Little Leaguers will play a regular league schedule next Saturday at 2 p.m. at Jones Field House.

Dick Savitt Quits Tennis Tourney Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Big time tennis Wimbledon, Forest Hills and the Davis Cup—holds no more fascination for Dick Savitt.

The towering, stoop-shouldered New Yorker, who at 34 still can match shots with any amateur in the game, plans to put his prized National Indoor championship trophy in the family showcase and quit tournament play for good. "And I mean for good," Savitt said today. "I may play in a weekend social tournament somewhere, but never in a national event—not in this one or any other. I wouldn't have played this year if I hadn't wanted that trophy so badly."

In beating Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., 6-2, 11-9, 6-3 Monday at the Seventh Regiment Armory, the Manhattan oilman won the

Porkers Must Beat Texas to Stay in Race

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Tonight is showdown night in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

One of two big games is set here: Arkansas and Texas, two of the three teams tied for second place, meet in a sudden-death elimination.

The other big game is in College Station, Tex., where league-leading Texas Tech takes on Texas A&M, the other team in the three-way tie for second.

It's a big opportunity for Arkansas to draw almost even with Tech. If the Razorbacks beat Texas and A&M upsets Texas Tech, the Hogs will be just one game off the pace.

Then Arkansas and Texas Tech would meet Saturday night in Lubbock in a game that would give Arkansas a chance to tie for the lead.

The loser of the Arkansas-Texas bout will be out of the race. If A&M loses, it will fall from contention, leaving only the Hogs and the Razorbacks to challenge Tech.

The Porkers will be trying to even the score with Texas, which won the first encounter between the two in Austin, 68-58.

Tech leads the league with a 7-1 record to 5-3 for Arkansas, Texas and Texas A&M.

Arkansas Coach Glen Rose said he may start sophomore Larry Wofford against Texas if Wofford's sprained foot has improved. The former Fort Smith High School star got his first starting assignment in Saturday night's 84-72 victory over Rice, but suffered the injury.

The other Hog starter will be Ronnie Garner, Jerry Carlton, Clyde Rhoden and Pat Foster. Texas will start with 6-8 Al Almanza, 6-8 Jimmy Brown, 5-11 Donnie Lasiter, 6-1 Butch Skeete and 6-5 sophomore Coyle Winborn. Texas edged past last-place Baylor Saturday night 68-65.

Palmer Wins Prize Money at Phoenix

By CARL BELL

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Amazing Arnold Palmer, 1960's undisputed king of golf, is off and winning at an even faster pace this year.

The long-hitting Miami muscled defeated Doug Sanders by three strokes in a playoff Monday to cop the Phoenix Open championship, his second in six tournaments, and mark the fourth time this season he had finished among the top five money winners.

At this time a year ago, Palmer had lined up with the first five at the pay window only once. That was when he won the Palm Springs title. He wound up the year with eight championships and official prize money totaling more than $75,000.

Playing with the aggressive, chance-taking style which has stamped him as the game's greatest finisher, Palmer went after Sanders early. He took the lead with a birdie on the second hole and never relinquished it.

After both players, tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes at 270, bogied the first hole, Palmer fired nothing but pars and birdies. He came in with a three-under-par 67 in spite of a one-stroke penalty for an unplayable lie in the top of a palm tree on No. 18. He recovered for a par 5 on that one.

Sanders, who got into the playoff with an Arizona Country Club course record 62 Sunday, finished with a 70 on two birdies, two bogies and 14 pars. He beat Palmer on only one hole, that when he birdied the 16th. His other birdie came on the par-5 eighth hole and was matched by Palmer.

The winner took $4,300 in prize money. Sanders won $3,000, and they split 50 per cent of the extra day's gate receipts, giving each

His prize, exclusive of gate receipts, ran Palmer's official tournament money for the year to $12,425 and lifted him to second place on the bankroll list. Gary Player, winner of the rich San Francisco Open, picked up $825 in Phoenix and still leads the pack with $13,727.

Mississippi State Upset by Kentucky

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

It probably isn't an omen for the o-men, but Ohio State's ram-raging Buckeyes might take heed of what happened to Mississippi State and Kansas State.

Until Monday night those two teams were rambling along in their conference basketball races, almost as comfortably as Ohio has been in the Big Ten. Then Kentucky and Colorado lowered the boom as effectively as Clancy ever did and now almost anything could happen in the Southeastern Conference and the Big Eight.

Ohio State, meanwhile, made it 9-0 in the Big Ten standing and 24 straight in their two-year string with an 89-65 victory over Northwestern that wasn't particularly pleasing to Coach Fred Taylor. He thought his team "seemed to let down a bit." The Bucks' turn could come next, if they do let down—possibly against determined Iowa Saturday.

Kentucky, going nowhere but making itself felt in the Southeastern race, handed Mississippi State's Marston their first conference defeat, 60-62, on the Marston's court in Columbia, and enough of an early lead to beat Kansas State 81-59 and knock the Wildcats, ranked sixth nationally, in The Associated Press poll, out of the Big Eight lead.

Kansas, which had been tied with K-State, moved out in front by crushing Missouri 72-51, Mississippi State, all beat the SEC, with an 81-60 rout of Florida and Louisiana State moved up to meet St. Bonaventure, ranked second, in a 95-79 victory over at 63 while Kentucky, winning NIT tournament-bound Providence straight in 64.

One other conference game met by a team straight and 19th in its first defeat when Eastern Kentucky, scored 62-49 by Jim Hahn of 64-72 Western Iowa, 7-1 and Providence, Eastern 7-2 in the Ohio Valley.

Ohio State Best in the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The continued rise of Cincinnati and Kansas State to positions of national prominence marked this week's voting in The Associated Press basketball poll as Ohio State and St. Bonaventure continued to hold the top two places.

Apparently nothing is going to disturb the Buckeyes (18-0) and the Bonnies (18-1) unless they get beaten. Meanwhile, the two teams from the powerful midlands conferences keep moving up, and they could be ready to hand out those tickings by the time the NCAA tournament rolls around.

For the ninth straight week Ohio State drew all the first place votes of the AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters for a perfect 360 point score. St. Bonaventure had 35 second-place votes and one third for 323 points.

Scoring is on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc. Voting is based on results through last Saturday.

The top 10 teams, with first place votes in parentheses:

4. Cincinnati	100
5. Bradley	90
6. Kansas State	80
7. North Carolina	70
8. Southern California	60
9. Iowa	50
10. West Virginia	40
